

Predator and Prey

Version 1 " 21st June 2013" Predator and Prey The only conspiracy that matters is the conspiracy of the psychopaths against the rest of us. Nature forces adaptation and evolution through predator and prey structures, the predators being less than 1%, typically 1 in a 1000, of the prey populations they maintain a balance. Man has no natural predators we are taught, this is a lie, one distinct form of man preys on another form of man. Man has always existed in two distinct forms, the prey which is empathic, loyal, and altruistic, a moral soul; and the ruthless, callous, amoral soulless creatures medically labelled clinical psychopath. The prey should exist as 99% of the population, innately only 1 in a 1000 as predator, but in modern times the predators have taken over the control of the prey to such an extent the predators are as high as 4% of the present population, 1 in 25, it is estimated, this has been achieved through careful breeding controls of their bloodlines and the creation of secret societies which perform rituals to identify the predators from the prey. In addition with such a high proportion of predators the prey itself emulate and worship what they fear, turning themselves into the tortured soul of a sociopath. When prey is twisted into acting like a predator, to the point they murder prey, it slowly destroys the soul of the prey sociopath; drug addiction, alcoholism, and even suicide can be the common result. All predator prey structures impose an evolutionary arms race between prey and predator, resulting in various anti-predator adaptations in the prey and counter-adaptations in the predator. The ultimate adaptation is for the predator to look and act outwardly exactly like the prey, as in the case of man. The predator psychopath cannot be cured as they do not have a disease, they are born that way, so could never be "cured". They do not see themselves as diseased. Rather, from their perspective we are the disease, the ultimate cure for which is full-spectrum warfare levelled not against phantom enemies, but against us. Understand this, the objective of the cabal of psychopaths in control of hierarchy at present is the extermination of the majority of living souls, each psychopath has a mind devoid of higher emotion, just like a robot "that psychopath" is out there. It can't be bargained with; it can't be reasoned with; it doesn't feel pain and it absolutely will not stop, ever, until you are dead. (Reese speaking to Sarah Conner in The Terminator)

The living soul Both predator and prey have a conscious mind, which is filled with the base desires and lusts of living, also to varying degrees the reasoning and logic of thought and the comparative examination in determining repercussions of their actions. The living soul adds through the subconscious, imagination, inventive creation, and compassion through empathy, love beyond ego, and their uniqueness of soul, conscience and much more. "It seems that conscience and feelings are related to the abstract concepts of 'future' and 'others.' It is 'spatio-temporal.' We can feel fear, sympathy, empathy, sadness, and so on because we can IMAGINE, in an abstract way, the future based on our own experiences in the past. We can 'predict' how others will react because we are able to 'see ourselves' in them, even though they are 'out there'. In other words, we can not only identify with others spatially, so to speak - but also temporally - in time. The psychopath does not seem to have this capacity." Lobaczewski Psychopaths do not understand what is meant by "truth"; where we rely on truth to interpret reality, adjusting its parameters accordingly with each new truth, reality for psychopaths is whatever they declare it to be. A member of the Bush administration in an interview with journalist Ron Suskind exposed this clearly. "A senior adviser to Bush, expressed to a journalist the "them and us" of the psychopathic world. The aide said that guys like you are "in what we call the reality-based community," which he defined as people who "believe that solutions emerge from your judicious study of discernible reality." "That's not the way the world really works anymore. We're an empire now, and when we act, we create our own reality. And while you're studying that reality - judiciously, as you will - we'll act again, creating other new realities, which you can study too, and that's how things will sort out. We're history's actors ... and you, all of you, will be left to just study what we do." (Faith, Certainty and the Presidency of George W. Bush - New York Times magazine, October 17, 2004) We have a global Pathocracy that through the feudal system has created fiction that hold the masses in servitude and prevent any true relief from torts, feudalism is simple for psychopaths to establish once they have removed any recourse or equitable relief from wrongful actions, that is the first and most important requirement, as if wrongful actions are given relief the psychopaths are held to account. When no relief from torts is possible the psychopaths can act with impunity, as they continue to do to this day. The transformation from the allodial and tort system to the ownership and legal fictions was achieved through violence against those souls that held resources allodially; using armed gangs of psychopaths, communities were attacked, and even if they repelled each assault there was no relief from the danger of further attack, this led to the allodial holder seeking the only protection available; to give themselves and all their resources in fealty to the most powerful psychopath, this is ownership, the psychopath sends his new vessel, a ship of commerce, to work the land the allodarii formally held, but now he works as a slave for which the psychopath will supposedly afford protection from other psychopaths. This fear based power model continues in a variety of manifestation through the psychopaths creating the setting for feelings of being threatened in the prey, this is manifest through hierarchical structures created by the psychopaths to control the society of normal souls. Within the hierarchical model the psychopath naturally always dominates, power over others is the nature of the predator, while the innate model of the prey is to act cooperatively, free of hierarchy. With the advances in technology the prey are becoming less and less valued by the predators, although the prey does not need the predators, without the prey the predators would quickly destroy themselves. The predator is always fearful of discovery, outnumbered and without the capacity for true leaps of imagination necessary to advance true knowledge; they are working to reduce the prey population down to a number they can easily dominate directly without the need for pretence. This manifests in the biological, psychological, moral and economic destruction of the majority of normal souls, this destruction is then for the pathocrats, a 'biological' necessity. With no conscience to impede their hate-fuelled trajectory, the onus is on us to disentangle ourselves from the web by taking responsibility for our own actions, and understanding both the hierarchical systems and the alternatives that must be established to render those hierarchies obsolete. The prey choose to believe the lies which promise relief from the many miseries the hierarchical model imposes, they repeatedly surrender their responsibility so give away their inherent power for granted rights, privileges and duties invented by the psychopaths, thusly we play our part in the creation of evil. If we are to reclaim our inherent power, we must recognise the predators for what they are, and identify them through testing, holding all, both predator and prey accountable for their actions; even those psychopaths that sit upon the pinnacles of hierarchical fantasy, constructed to protect them from accountability; such as Presidents, Monarchs™, Popes, etc. Conscience In "On Killing"™, Lt. Col. Dave Grossman has re-written military history, to highlight what other histories hide: The fact that military science is less about strategy and technology, than about overcoming the instinctive prey reluctance to kill members of our own species. The true "Revolution in Military Affairs" was not Donald Rumsfeld's move to high-tech in 2001, but Brigadier Gen. S.L.A. Marshall's discovery in the 1940s that only 15-20% of World War II soldiers along the line of fire would use their weapons: "Those (80-85%) who did not fire did not run or hide (in many cases they were willing to risk great danger to rescue comrades, get ammunition, or run messages), but they simply would not fire their weapons at the enemy, even when faced with repeated waves of banzai charges" (Grossman, p. 4). Marshall's discovery and subsequent research proved that in all previous wars, a tiny minority of soldiers; the 4% who are natural born psychopaths, and perhaps a few temporarily-insane imitators of 1%, did almost all the killing. The psychopaths shape the perception of the prey to view the murderous soldiers as the "heroes", the most valiant, the bravest, the ones to look up to and emulate, and the true patriots, when in reality they are the direct opposite, they are the depraved, the immoral, the debauched, so truly the "murderous" hero; hero is a word created in the 14th century, meaning a "man of superhuman strength or courage", this is always the psychopath in violent conflict. The sane majority, would rather die than fight on the other hand, but the perception is shaped that those who refuse to fire, refuse to fight, or refuse to participate in violence, are cowardly, weak, to be reviled, hated and unpatriotic and all souls should be contemptuous. These false perceptions are propagated through the many forms of hierarchical media, religion and education institutions. If any doubt remains about who dominates hierarchy, the contrived perception of the norms for soldiers' behaviour in battle must have been set by psychopaths; therefore psychopaths always controlled the military as an institution. Worse, this proves psychopaths control society's perception of military affairs; therefore, to do so, they must also control all subordinate and superior hierarchies. In modern times to overcome the aversion of the prey to the act of murder, the predators used their sociopathic confederates to develop drugs for the combat soldier, and created virtual reality video games emulating the environment of active combat, to train children in the art of murder; this has worked in the short term but is generating a large number of suicides in prey who have participated in combat murders. The three worlds "the Overworld" the Commercial world "the Underworld" There are three layers to the cult of the psychopath, the overworld of the elite™s legitimate mafia, those in control of the pinnacles of hierarchical society, the feudal overlords of the legalised criminal syndicates. The underworld of the illegitimate mafia, running prostitution, organ harvesting, drug dealing, protection rackets, theft, murder, torture, etc.; the overworld and the underworld are one in the same in reality, and the commercial world holding the prey in various degrees of slavery; a world where everything is chattel and owned; the chattel prey is held extorted between the two predator worlds. Why does the Pathocracy fear it is losing control? Because it is threatened by the spread of knowledge; the greatest fear of any psychopath is of being found out. We already have the knowledge necessary to diagnose psychopathic personalities and keep them out of positions of trust, and to discover the most likely to be culpable when investigating violent torts. We have the knowledge to establish alternatives to hierarchy, letting the institutions in which psychopaths flourish - militaries, intelligence agencies, large corporations, and secret societies become obsolete. We simply need to disseminate this knowledge, and the will to use it, as widely as possible. It is utterly pointless to protest a group of predators, to petition them, to vote in sham elections, this won't stop them continuing to prey on the ignorant, confused and deluded masses, the answer never changes, we suffer globally a system designed and administrated by psychopaths to prey on non-psychopaths with impunity. The three hierarchical worlds we suffer: "Just look at us. Everything is backwards. Everything is upside down. Doctors destroy health, lawyers destroy justice, universities destroy knowledge, governments destroy freedom, the major media destroy information, and religion destroys spirituality." • Michael Ellner We must establish the substantive model and ignore the constructive, refuse to allow psychopaths any involvement in that independent structure, one that does not require hierarchy, only each soul accepting responsibility for their actions, and all fully accountable through a system of dispute arbitrations that applies universally and equally to all. The predators fear the truth, they fear the approaching apocalypse: apocalypse means, "a disclosure of knowledge, i.e., a lifting of the veil or revelation"™.
